Best Yacht Conversion

Enigma XK won the award for Best Yacht Conversion at the World Superyacht Awards 2014, at the Scheepvaartmuseum in Amsterdam. The jury mentioned: "The conversion of superyacht Enigma XK from a British government-owned Fisheries Protection Vessel designed for service in the roughest of North Atlantic waters, into a comfortable and capable expedition yacht was extremely well done by the La Rochelle-based Atlantic Refit Center." According to Atlantic Refit Center it was an extremely challenging project to fit everything needed on board a superyacht into a former military vessel and to keep the original profile of the vessel.
